STANDING ARMY TO WEAR STARS INADEQUATE FOR NEEDS OF THE NEXT SHERIFF

Gen. Wotherspoon Declares U. S. Unprepared to Meet First Class Power Invasion

SAYS ALASKAN DEFENSE VERGES ON RIDICULOUS

Urges Standing Army of 200,000, With First Line of 500,000, Second of 300,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The declaration that America needs more soldiers is a feature of the annual report of Chief of Staff General Wotherspoon, published today, the report maintaining the United States army is unprepared to resist invasion by any first-class power or to defend the Philippines, Alaska and Hawaii. General Wotherspoon contends that the value of our coast defenses is questionable, and urges that the standing army be raised to 200,000 with a mobile first line of half a million men, and with a second line of 300,000.

The report said the Panama Canal is not effectively protected, and hinted that the German system of military training is the best means of providing mobile forces.

General Wotherspoon holds that the troops now distributed in foreign possessions are totally inadequate to meet the needs, and declares that an effective defense of the Philippines is manifestly impossible with the present forces.

Regarding Alaska, he said the garrison there of 500 men "verges on the ridiculous" unless it could be reinforced at the "very earliest stage of impending conflict" by forces from the United States. The same criticism, he declares, applies to Hawaii.

General Wotherspoon said in his report: "Experience has shown that two to three years is the lowest possible limit of time in which the average man can be converted into a disciplined, trained and effective soldier."

ALLIES DESTROY GERMAN TROOP TRAIN

British Warships Shell Cars as Fog Lifts Off Shore; Heavy Losses

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The official war information bureau today confirmed the reports of the destruction of a German troop train in Belgium by British warships anchored off the coast. The Germans tried to transport their troops under cover of the heavy fog which has prevailed for several days. The fog lifted, giving the warships an opportunity to shell the military train, which was destroyed, several hundred German troops being killed and wounded.

Later the warships bombarded a large factory building which was headquarters for German officers in their operations along the canal between Zebrugge and Bruges. The factory was destroyed and a number of German officers killed.

The terrific battle that raged yesterday among the canals about Dixmude was continued today.

MAKER OF RECORD GIANT CHEESE DIES IN OHIO

GENEVA, Ohio, Nov. 18.—George A. Carter, maker of the giant cheese that was exhibited at the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1876, died here yesterday. The cheese, which weighed more than a ton, was made at Mr. Carter's factory near here. It is believed still to hold the record as the biggest cheese ever manufactured.

APPEALS FOR COTTON FOR DRESSING WOUNDS, MADE

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—An appeal from Austria for cotton to dress wounds was received here today. It was declared that hundreds are dying because the supply of cotton has been exhausted. Conditions are reported as being frightful. An appeal was made that Americans send cotton by parcel post. The Bureau of Foreign Mails said that such shipments will be accepted.

Jackson Will Appoint John Iman of Anaheim as His Under-Sheriff

FOWLER A BAILIFF: LACY TO BE JAILER

Except Three Offices, Be Few Changes in Deputies at Courthouse

*****
Deputies to be appointed by Sheriff-elect C. E. Jackson: Under Sheriff—John Iman of Anaheim.
Bailiff in Department No. 1—J. R. Fowler of Santa Ana.
Bailiff in Department No. 2—J. M. Gunnett of Anaheim.
Office—Miss Opal Davis of Orange.
Jailer—Theo. Lacy, Jr., of Santa Ana.
Guard of chain gang—J. W. Murray of Santa Ana.
Assistant guard of chain gang—A. L. Eells of Orange.

C. E. Jackson of Santa Ana, who was elected sheriff to serve the four-year term beginning the first Monday in January, today announced his list of deputies. Jackson and his friends believe that the selection throughout is an excellent one, and that the force as outlined is capable of efficient public service.

The man upon whom a large share of the executive work of the office falls is the under sheriff. For that office, Jackson has selected "Jack" Iman of Anaheim. Iman is known among the officers of the county as a capable, fearless officer. For some time he has been on the nightwatch force at Anaheim.

J. R. Fowler of Santa Ana is well known in Santa Ana, where he has lived many years. He will make not only a good bailiff but a good man for outside work of the office. He knows the county and its people thoroughly. J. M. Gunnett is best known in this county as chairman of the County Dry Federation.

For his office deputy, Jackson will appoint Miss Opal Davis of Orange. Miss Davis has been employed for the last year as a deputy in the offices of the county assessor and county clerk, and it was through her proven ability as an office deputy that she was selected for the position in the sheriff's office, a position of considerable responsibility.

Officer "Budge" Lack, who was jailer when his father, Theo. Lacy, was sheriff is to return to the jail under Jackson. Officer J. W. Murray, veteran nightwatchman of the county seat, will also quit the city service for a county job.

Thus the recent election will cause vacancies in three city positions, City Clerk Burke resigning to go to Sacramento as assemblyman and Lacy and Murray resigning to take deputyships under Jackson. The vacancies will be filled by appointments probably in December.

On the first Monday of January arrives, most of the county officers will proceed with their work with the same principals and office force that they now have. The primaries and general election made three changes at the courthouse. Miss Justice Whitney is to become recorder, W. C. Jerome auditor and C. E. Jackson sheriff. Miss Whitney and Jerome are not yet ready to announce their deputies, or have not yet made up their minds as to the appointments. Miss Whitney will have four appointments and Jerome one.

POPE FRIENDLY MAY RECONCILE ITALY AND ROMAN CHURCH

ROME, Nov. 18.—A consideration of the first encyclical of Pope Benedict XV leads to the conclusion that the pontiff's sentiments toward Italy are the most friendly character and that a reconciliation with the kingdom is not an impossibility.

The conclusion of the document, which covers a full page in the Osservatore Romano, is the most important part in that it implies virtual renunciation of the pope's claim for temporal protest against the loss of such power, but expresses his opinion in the midst of terms. He does not use the words "temporal power," but merely says he lacks the power to accomplish his duties owing to the abnormal condition in which the Holy See is placed.

FEDERATION ASKS UNIONS TO JOIN

Defers Agitation of Six-Hour Day Until Eight-Hour Day is Better Applied

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—The American Federation of Labor in convention here has passed a resolution inviting and urging unaffiliated national and international unions, such as the railroad brotherhoods, to join the federation.

The convention on Monday blocked an attempt to form rival unions unless the independent organizations affiliated with the federation. The federation also went on record for a more general application of the eight-hour day in all trades before beginning agitation for a six-hour work day.

A description of the conditions of the workers in the textile strike in Atlanta, given by Mrs. Sara A. Conroy of the United Textile Union, brought on a long discussion on the question of financing strikes by the federation.

SIERRA NATIONAL FOREST WILL BE MUCH REDUCED

VISALIA, Nov. 18.—The Sierra National Forest is to be reduced, according to information reaching here. It is understood that the plan is to move the west line of the forest reserve eastward several miles. This will throw open many acres of government land, including timber land, which will be made entryable. The present forest reserve line extends to the very edge of the timber line, only a few miles east of the foothills.

HERBERT N. LEWIS ENDS LIFE UNDER A FELONY CHARGE

Lewis, state superintendent of the Children's Home Society of California, answered the charge of leading 15-year-old Ida Niles into a life of shame by committing suicide yesterday afternoon in Westlake Park. Dr. Lewis was a well-known humanitarian and charitable worker.

It is believed by those who knew Lewis intimately that he killed himself while temporarily insane.

American Flag Fired On by Turkish Smyrna Forts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The Navy Department admitted today that the Turkish shore forts at Smyrna had fired on a launch from the American cruiser Tennessee, which recently attempted to enter the Gulf of Smyrna to arrange for the docking of the Tennessee there in order to protect foreigners. The launch was compelled to return to the ship, Captain Decker, in command of the Tennessee, wired Secretary Daniels that the launch was proceeding from Smyrna to Smyrna. He said the American consul at Smyrna was apprehensive of the safety of the American consulate, and American Ambassador Morgenthau, at Constantinople, had notified the Tennessee to leave Vurla. The Tennessee is now reported as being at Chios.

The cruiser's launch carried an American flag. The Navy Department knew nothing further of the affair than that a shot had been fired. Secretary Daniels reiterated the hope that this was done to prevent the boat crossing the mine field. He is awaiting official reports of the event. President Wilson has directed that all reports be brought him immediately upon their receipt.

The State Department stated that it will merely mark time until the arrival of official reports. Secretary Daniels of the Navy Department conferred with Acting Secretary of State Lansing, the conference lasting for an hour. Lansing attempted to get in communication with Ambassador Morgenthau. He admitted he had no direct communication with him, making it necessary for all communications to pass through the belligerent European countries. He said that cable communication from Asia Minor occupied from two to five days. Lansing is also trying to reach American Consul George Horton in Smyrna. No word has been received direct from him for several days.

It is reported the cruisers Tennessee and North Carolina will be recalled immediately from European waters to prevent possible accidental disaster. Secretary of the Navy Daniels refused to discuss the report.

WILSON TO MAKE NO MORE PEACE OFFERS

Will Await Intimation From One of Belligerents That Such Move is Wished

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—There is no indication of a movement for intervention in the European war by the Washington government or another tender of good offices as peace-maker. Both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have said to callers that until there was an intimation from one of the belligerents that the good offices of the United States as peace-maker was desired, no further move looking to peace would be made by the President.

President Wilson said there could be no further step in the way of offering mediation without the risk of incurring the ill will of certain of the powers and crippling the efforts of this country to achieve peace when the time comes to act. The President will wait for a suggestion from one or more of the belligerents that mediation is desired. The United States, through the President, in a formal as well as in an informal way has made the tender of its good offices for mediation. The offer stands and is well understood by the belligerents.

BRITISH REPULSE FIERCE ATTACK NEAR ARRAS

Combined Onslaught of Artillery and Infantry Driven Back With Heavy Loss

ZOUAVES CLEAR GERMANS OUT OF FOREST SCREEN

Onward Teuton March Checked in Belgian Field; Rheims Still Under Shell

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The British are holding their positions today in the vicinity of Arras against a tremendous German artillery pressure. The German artillery is supporting the infantry in its attacks. Despite this the British are reported as having driven the Germans back as much as 500 yards in one place. The war office report spoke especially of determined infantry attacks made on two British divisions, both being repulsed. Another British division was attacked simultaneously by infantry and artillery, but held its position despite the murderous shelling of the trenches. Various new positions are being taken by the British, it was stated, but only such as the weather dictated. Reports from the front said that activity in the German rear indicated some important troop movement.

PARIS, Nov. 18.—French Zouaves succeeded today in clearing the Germans from the woods between Dixmude and Ypres, according to the usual afternoon communication from the Bordeaux war office. These woods have been the scene during the last three days of a series of terrible encounters, most of the fighting there being at the point of the bayonet. The Germans had used the woods to screen their operations.

Isolated German infantry attacks continued, the communication stated, but were repulsed everywhere. The Germans are continuing the bombardment of Rheims.

"Cannonading continues from the coast to Lys," the statement said. "The bombardment rages fiercest south of Ypres and at Neuport. An attempted German advance south of Ypres was repulsed. The army of the allies gained advantage at several points about Craonne. Concerning conditions along the lines from Arras to the Oise and from Rheims to the Argonne region there is nothing new to report. We continue to hold the southern part of Chavoncourt, near St. Mihiel. Battalions of German Landwehr in the St. Marie-Aux-Mines region have lost as much as half their first line of strength."

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 18.—No official German reports were received here today. An unofficial report indicated that the Germans and Russians are engaged in a great battle in the Vistula region. The preliminaries of the battle began on Tuesday. The Germans are reported as holding satisfactory positions. Unofficial messages claimed that the Germans still hold their positions in the western theater of the war and are directing offensive movements in all places where the weather permits.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 18.—Austrians are shelling Belgrade this afternoon, according to a message from Budapest. The bombardment was resumed Sunday by heavy siege guns mounted on the hills of Semlin, on the Hungarian side of the Danube, the message said. Austrian monitors in the river joined in the bombardment. An Austrian force is reported as marching on Belgrade from the direction of the River Save, while Austrian engineers are repairing a bridge across the river at Semlin, opposite Belgrade.

BULLETS FALL OVER LINE AS FIGHTING AT NACO IS RESUMED

Southern Counties Co. Asks

The Southern Counties Gas Company has petitioned the Board of Supervisors to offer for sale a franchise to lay gas mains over county roads in a wide strip of territory reaching from La Habra to the ocean.
This strip includes Buena Park, Cypress, Seal Beach and Sunset Beach.
It is understood that the purpose in getting the franchise is to allow the company to build pipelines from the big Standard Oil Company well at Buena Park, the gas company having contracted to buy the gas escaping from that well. While the franchise will include the beach towns, that fact does not necessarily mean that the company expects to supply those places. It has a blanket franchise for most of the county to the east of this strip. The franchise will be offered for sale on December 22.

NEW DIRECTORY TO OBSERVE CHANGES IN STREET NAMES

Residents of the streets that are to be re-named might as well commence using the new names. The trustees passed the ordinance Monday night, and it was published yesterday. It will go into effect thirty days from the time of publication, so that within a month the legal names of several streets will be changed.

The city directory that is being gotten out through the co-operation of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce will contain addresses in accordance with the re-naming. While the data already gathered has the names of the streets as they have been, the addresses will be changed to fit the ordinance.

Of the street changes proposed the trustees rejected the proposal to change Cypress to South Bush.

Streets were re-named as follows:
G to Minter, F to Lacy, E to Garfield,
Depot to Fruit, Orchard to West
Tenth, Nakomis to North Shelton,
Bates to North Baker, D to Poinsettia,
Hanna to North Flower, C to Santi-

WASHINGTON GOOD ROADS MEN MEET

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 18.—With steps expected to be taken that will result in better highways in the state, the Washington Good Roads Association convened here today in annual session.

Among the subjects scheduled for discussion are the proposed legislative enactment strengthening the wide tire law, a new automobile code, the standardization of danger signals for all roads, the automatic distribution of money from the public highway fund, and providing for a definite system of maintenance for all types of roads.

Samuel Hill, well known northwest good roads enthusiast and expert, and E. H. James, head of the maintenance department of the United States office of public roads, are scheduled to deliver addresses before the convention adjourns Friday.

MAKE OILCLOTH AT HUNTINGTON BEACH

First Rolls Turned Out by Factory Are Bought at Home

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 1.—
The first oilcloth ever manufactured on the Pacific coast or this side of St. Louis was turned out last week by the Pacific Oilcloth and Linoleum Company. In honor of the occasion many of the prominent business men of Huntington Beach were at the factory.

The first rolls of oilcloth were bought at once by Carl Olson, the N.
A. Turner Company and the McElfresh Mercantile Company, all of Huntington Beach. These merchants have this latest of California products on exhibition at their places of business.

How important this newest of Huntington Beach industries may become is indicated by the small number of such factories throughout the United States as contrasted with the enormous demand for the product. It is an industry that can be conducted only on a large scale. The factory is the result of the enterprise of several local men, among them Thomas B. Talbert, who is the president of the company; W. T. Newland, who is president of the First National Bank of Huntington Beach; R. E. Graves and J. K. McDonald. The Huntington Beach Company donated the site, which is located in the industrial suburb of Huntington Beach and is on the Southern Pacific railway and a branch of the Pacific Electric.

For the present, oilcloth only is being manufactured. The capacity is 400 rolls a day. The plans call for a group of buildings to cover fifteen acres of ground and for the employment of 300 men. All kinds of linoleum in all sorts of colors will be made.

All buildings must be fireproof and those already built are of most substantial construction; of brick, concrete and steel. The main building is 66x326 feet in dimensions and there are a number of lesser buildings, such as the transformer house, stockroom and warehouse.

The annual lima bean harvest is at an end and the most of the crop is now threshed. The yield in the vicinity of Huntington Beach is expected to reach $150,000 to $200,000.

INGENIOUS ARE SPIES OF THE KAISER

PETROGRAD, Oct. 24 (by mail to New York).—Fresh examples of the ingenuity displayed by German spies are being discovered almost daily, and the utmost vigilance has to be maintained in territory occupied by Russian troops. Recently it became apparent that information as to the positions and movements of troops at Interberg was being conveyed to the enemy, but try as they might the Russians could not locate the spy or fathom his methods. There were no telegraph or telephone wires available, nor was it possible for couriers to do the work. By day or night the so-called "optical connections," helio-graphs, lights, smoke, etc., could not exist, yet the Germans were obtaining accurate and rapid information.

The Russian staff came to the conclusion that the only solution was submarine lines laid before the outbreak of hostilities. This assumption was justified in several instances, and in the village of Margaboff, the local school teacher was found to be using a telephone, the instrument and wires of which were hidden in a hat box.
The Russians had searched the man's house, but the hat box lying among a heap of men's, women's and children's clothes in a wardrobe attracted no attention. From this hat box the telephone wires went to places where German troops were stationed, and the operator actually had a small branch exchange by which he could communicate with particular commanders.

The spy gained his information either by his own observation or from Russian soldiers whom he called into his home and regaled with dainties, the while he was "pumping" them as to their movements. As soon as the telephone was discovered the Russians telephoned to the Germans some false and misleading information with satisfactory results (to themselves) and then destroyed the instrument. The teacher was shot.

THE USE OF LIME IN AGRICULTURE

Instructive Bulletin Issued by United States Geological Survey

The use of lime as a fertilizer dates from the inception of modern scientific farming. Agricultural chemists have shown that there are five or six different functions which lime may perform to benefit a soil, which may be summarized briefly as follows:

1. It is an essential element of plant food.
2. It aids in the conversion in decaying organic matter into humus.
3. It forms compounds with the humus acids which tend to prevent their being leached out of the soil and lost.
4. By producing proper sanitary conditions the growth of injurious bacteria is largely prevented, while the growth of nitrifying bacteria is encouraged. These nitrifying bacteria convert the nitrogen of the humus into such a form that it is available as a plant food.
5. Lime aids in the liberation of potash and phosphorus from inert compounds.
6. It tends to flocculate clay soils, rendering them granular and more porous.

Obviously, permanent results can not be expected unless care is taken to insure the presence of some organic fertilizer at all times. Lime used alone may be temporarily beneficial but will eventually be harmful; when used with cowpea vines it becomes more efficient for general purposes than almost any other fertilizer. Of course, lime is not beneficial to all crops to the same extent, and not all soils need lime. Thus, some of the common plants which are stated by the Department of Agriculture to be benefited by lime, are spinach, lettuce, beet, celery, onion, cucumber, cantalupe, asparagus, cabbage, peanut, ru-barb, pea, pumpkin, bean, tobacco, alfalfa, clover, barley, wheat, cats, timothy, gooseberry, currant, orange, quince, and cherry. Indian corn is only slightly benefited.

Plants which are said to be slightly injured by lime are cotton, tomato, cowpea, concord grape, peach, apple, and pear, and those really injured are radish, flax, blackberry, black raspberry, and cranberry.

Whether a soil will respond to lim-ing or not depends on the amount of available calcium oxide which it already contains. Probably the best indication of the need of lime is the failure to obtain a good crop of clover.

The question whether lime should be applied to the soil as quicklime, hydrated lime, air-slacked lime, or ground limestone is still the subject of a great deal of controversy. The advocates of ground limestone claim that the caustic properties of quick or hydrated lime will burn up and destroy the organic matter in the soil, whereas limestone can be applied in large quantities at long intervals and will therefore produce a more or less permanent fertility. The advocates of lime claim that one of the main functions which lime has to perform is the destruction of the organic matter and the liberation of the nitrogen in such a form that the plant can use it, that the frequent and judicious use of lime, together with some organic fertilizer, will bring immediate results. Of course the local conditions of each particular case must be considered before a final conclusion can be reached. Thus, it is rational to use quicklime on soils which are exceedingly rich in organic matter, such as peaty or swampy soils. Limestone is safer than quicklime when applied just before planting a crop which is little helped by liming, or when applied to a light sandy soil in hot dry weather.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT DEFENSE: AUTO NOT STOLEN, RECOURSE IS IN CIVIL SUIT

Justice Cox Hearing Evidence in Roy Noble's Action for Damages

When A. A. Franko was having his hearing before Justice Cox on a charge of embezzling an automobile belonging to the Orange County Garage Company it developed that his defense is that no crime was committed, and that the recourse of the garage is in a civil suit. Franko had the automobile on a lease contract. No decision was reached by the justice.

Action for Damages
Roy Noble's action for $110 damages against C. W. Curry is on trial before Justice Cox this afternoon. Noble riding a motorcycle collided with Curry's automobile at the corner of Prospect and Santa Clara. C. H. Scott is attorney for the plaintiff and Fory and Reinhaus for the defendant. The collision occurred on October 12.

Change of Venue
Orange News: The trial of C. H. Hazelwood, auto stage driver in the employ of P. E. Taylor, was transferred from the Orange justice court to Santa Ana this morning when a change of venue was granted by Justice Fullerton of the local court.

The trial had been set for 10 a. m. today in Judge Fullerton's court, and the judge, jury and deputy district attorney had gathered in Barger's hall when P. E. Taylor and his attorney, W. W. Davis, arrived. Mr. Davis immediately applied for a change of venue on the ground that the citizens of Orange were too much prejudiced against Mr. Taylor for the defendant to get an impartial trial in this city. After some argument between the opposing attorneys, the application was granted, the court at the same time expressing disapproval of the action of the defense in not giving notice of their intention so that the expense of calling a jury together might

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder
Bothers You

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Advertisement.

have been avoided. The court also pointed out the fact that, out of the numerous affidavits presented by the defense to show that prejudice existed here, only one was made by a resident of Orange, who might be in a position to know the state of feeling existing here with regard to Mr. Taylor. The complaint filed against Hazelwood November 5 charged him with driving a car without a license number on the rear. The case will be heard by Justice Cox of Santa Ana.

REDLANDS Y. M. C. A. RAISES CASH FOR YEAR IN ONE DAY

REDLANDS, Nov. 18.—This was "dun day" with the directors of the Y. M. C. A., for they were out all day, raising money for the current expenses of the year. The city was combed by teams made up of the directors and well-wishers of the Y. The result was most gratifying to the officials of the association. Plans were for a one-day campaign, and it was found that this was sufficient. The association will soon move to the temporary quarters on the new plot of ground.

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated Give "California Syrup of Figs"

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! See if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. ## Instance of British Pluck Simply Told by Soldier

(By P. M. SARL, United Press Correspondent.)

LONDON, Oct. 28 (by mail to New York).—A thrilling incident in the wonderful retreat of the British from Mons is described by Sapper Wells of the Royal Engineers, who passes lightly over his own part in an extraordinary act of heroism.

"Our officers asked for men to go with him to blow up a bridge, so that the Germans could not follow us, and I went with him," says Wells.

"Well, to blow a bridge up we use gun cotton and a wire fuse. It is so easy if you take your wire well enough, but this time it would not work. Our men in running back had stepped on the wire so we had to go nearer to the bridge and try again. Even then it would not act, so the officer said to me: 'Get out of the way, Wells.' I said 'No, I'll go with you.' We were the only two on the bridge and the Germans were shooting at us, but our luck was in. Well, we both lay down and I fired ten rounds at the gun cotton with my rifle, and he did the same with a pistol, but it wouldn't work. If it had we should both have gone with it, so you see what a shave we had. We made a dive back and got some more gun cotton, and were making to have another go when an officer ordered us back, saying it was no use trying."

Wounded British soldiers in the hands of the Germans have hit upon a novel way of communicating with their families and friends at home. They subscribe small sums of money to the German Red Cross Society, but as few of them have any cash they fill up a draft form, or sign a check to be sent to London and honored. On the back of the draft the banker is requested to communicate the news of the drawer's safety to his home. Tommy Atkins thinks it is well worth a dollar subscription.

American Rhodes scholars revisiting Oxford would hardly recognize the great seat of learning in England, for the famous old colleges have been turned into barracks, and in addition

He will tell you off-hand how many passengers were carried through the hole in the ground for the ten years of its existence and it must be admitted that when he says that the total is two and a half billion passengers for the period he is saying something which is amazing. And that is only part of the story.

He can prophesy, for example, that New York City will have double its present population in 1950. That look into the future would be within the bounds of possibility for the history of the Subway in a single decade shows that it has been largely instrumental in building up the Bronx, Harlem and parts of Brooklyn.

A few years ago even New Yorkers would speak of 29th street in the same way as they would of the North Pole. Both regions seemed far away, cold and inhospitable. Today the North Pole is a reality and lots on 29th street are selling for $12,500 instead of the $1100 price in 1904. Some lots that sold for $4000 ten years ago will bring $75,000 now. Property values have increased mightily and the men who dug the Subway opened the way to ground which is far richer today than any gold mine.

The increased means of the transportation from outlying districts to the Broadway skyscraper canyon and offices gave many persons a chance to live at greater and greater distances from the day's work. The New Yorker knows that he is indebted to the Subway for better living quarters and cheaper rent. That is why he is grateful to the Subway and that is why, too, the transportation question has been solved in political campaigns. But that is another story.

Another interesting feature in connection with this romance of transportation may be pointed out. The center of Father Knickerbocker's business and amusement activities follow the same Star of Empire at his dwelling place; namely, in a northerly direction.

A few years ago the Rialto meant Fourteenth street. Later it meant Broadway to Thirty-fourth street. Today the theaters and the lounging places for actors and managers in on Broadway at Forty-second street and the time is not far distant when even Times Square will be deserted for some street farther uptown.

There are two subway stations on Forty-second street, and the stream of humanity from the north and south pours into those two stations when it is headed for the theaters or for the opera.

In like manner the department stores have moved up from Fourteenth street. The famous stores which once lined this street and Sixth avenue are now on Fifth avenue—all within a short distance from the two subway stations on Forty-second street. Lower Fifth avenue is given over to loft buildings and Fourth avenue is the heart of the silk trade in this country. The downtown wholesale and manufacturing district is going uptown just as fast as it can for the high rents of lower Manhattan make the overhead expense prohibitive.

A new subway is being built now and New York still looks to be in that unfinished condition at which visitors sneer. But the real Gothamite knows that the workmen are burrowing under ground in order that he may live better and more reasonably.

That's why he likes the smell of the Subway.

NEWPORT HARBOR

There are some people who smile when they hear talk of the harbor possibilities of Newport Bay; but when they read of the success already achieved at Long Beach by an entirely artificial harbor they must admit that the harbor possibilities of Newport Bay are no laughing matter.

And then there is the tremendous increase in the demand for harbor facilities that the Panama Canal is sure to bring about. It has recently been told in the news columns of the Long Beach Press how President James, of the Long Beach board of public works, has saved the city $1800 on freight on shipments of cast-iron pipe and fittings for the municipal water department, by having them routed through the Panama Canal. This is a striking, concrete illustration of the advantages shippers may gain by availing themselves of the canal route in having their shipments made. It is such high-percentage savings as this that is going to swell immensely the volume of coastwise shipments through the canal. It is in anticipation of the great commerce that is certain to spring up, by the water route, between California ports and the eastern seaboard and the gulf coast, that ports up and down this state are preparing to handle the greater volume of shipping that, with good reason, is expected.

Manifestly, Newport Bay should be improved and developed to the full extent of its harbor possibilities.

FOOD FOR BELGIANS

The people of Orange County, blest with peace and plenty, now have an opportunity to take part in the sending of foodstuffs to Belgian war sufferers. But they must do it now. The Belgians are reduced to the last extremity. With armies marching and counter-marching across Belgium, the country is desolated and food supplies exhausted. There is nothing to eat. Money will do no good in Belgium. There is no food to buy with money. Food must be sent from America in December in the Christmas fleet. The fleet will be guaranteed safe conduct by all nations.

Americans have no conception, it is said, of the pitiful extremities to which the Belgian people are reduced. The last atom of trembling strength has been exerted by the little country in its efforts to expel invasions from Belgian soil. Towns bombarded and wrecked, lands laid waste, crops trampled and burned, thousands of homeless refugees who have been charitably cared for in London and Paris and other European cities—this is a faint suggestion of the awful conditions that exist.

This is your opportunity. If you ever expect to respond to the cry of the distressed, to the wail of the hungry, to the grief-stricken sufferers whose succor is an imperative duty, if you believe in the tenets of the Christian religion, you must act now. To turn a deaf ear to such an appeal is inhuman.

Send your gift of foodstuff to R. R. Smith's Feed and Fuel Store 401 West Fourth street or send your check, with which to purchase food to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

THE GOLDEN CORN CROP

The final government report on corn shows that the American farmer will get a greater total of money for his crop than ever before. Production is a trifle under the average, but the price is high.

Corn is the universal American product. It is produced in more counties than any other one staple. Many people think of it as a lazy man's crop. They point to the indolent Indians, who grew it and thrived on it for centuries before the pale-face invaded their slackly tilled fields. Yet the fact that the bulk of the crop is raised on moderate sized farms is significant. The shifting and more or less ignorant farm help on which the big wheat farm or cotton plantation must depend, do not usually get the best results on corn. It is a crop that requires close and thoughtful attention.

Corn is a great democratic food product and back-yard staple for the poor man. Countless families lived through the earlier days, when white flour was a luxury, on Johnny cake, hoe cake, hasty pudding, and other cookery from corn flour.

There is an old rustic yarn about a father and mother who were called away by the illness of a relative, leaving a family of children at home. They had left little food and less money in the house, but had a field of corn. When the old people came back, there was no money in the house, but there was a heap of corn cobs in the back yard, and the children were as fat and rosy as pigs.

Experts on corn culture are not yet satisfied with the present corn raising methods. They feel that growers are too sure that the soil is not being exhausted. In rich corn country, farmers sometimes take stable manure and dump it into holes in the roads, or anything to get rid of it. Even the richest corn field is not a gold mine. Something ought to be put back.

GOOD CHARACTER

Sacramento Bee
A man who can control himself is one who can govern others. That maxim is both true and true. The basis of the successful man's character is the ability to control impulses, moods and passions. The basis of the good man's character is the power to subdue or minimize these.

Self-control is aided by the education which tends to moral betterment. This is the trend of the teachings of philosophers and sages of all ages.

Thus Sa'di of Shiraz, the Persian moral teacher and didactic poet—known in the twelfth century as "The Nightingale of a Thousand Songs"—wrote for his disciples:

My theme is rectitude, and self-government, and good habits; not the practicing ground, and horse-men, and mace, and ball.

Thine enemy is the spirit which dwelleth with thyself; why seek in a stranger one to contend with?

He who can bridle his spirit from that which is forbidden hath surpassed Rustam and Sam in valor.

Chastise thou thyself like a child with thine own rod, and brain not others with thy ponderous mace.

An enemy will suffer no harm from one like thee, unless thou art able to overcome thyself.

The body is a city full of good and evil; thou art the Sultan and reason is the wise Vizier.

In this city, side by side, live base men, self-exalted—Pride and Sensuality, fierce passions; Contentment, Conscientiousness, men of good name, Lust and Ambition, Robbery and Treachery.

When the Sultan maketh the bad his familiars, where can the prudent find a place of rest?

Appetite, and Greediness, and Pride, and Envy, cleave to thyself as the blood in thy veins, and the soul in thy vitals.

If these enemies have once obtained the mastery of thee, they rush out, and will overpower all thy discretion.

There need be no contest with Appetite and Passion, if so be that Reason hold out a sharp claw.

The chief who knoweth not how to manage his enemy will hardly save his chieftainship from his enemy's hand.

In other words, it is easy to open the way to the strength of passions and appetite, but to restrain them when allowed to gain the fullness of strength is difficult. Training to control or subdue them is the only way to promise safety from their influence.

CHANGING FROM GOLD TO PAPER

(From Los Angeles Financial News.)

In view that banks on the Pacific Coast are giving people paper currency now instead of gold has caused many inquiries to be made. Replying to an inquiry as to the reason therefore Burton Einstein, cashier of the First National Bank of Coalinga, in an interview in the Coalinga Oil Record is quoted thus:

"The putting out of paper money by the local banks is due to a number of causes other than the war in Europe. To the extent, however, that it is due to the war, it is a reminder to the people of the quiet and efficient way in which all the banks are co-operating with the government to care for the unexampled situation which the war has brought about. First of all, we now have shipped in to us monthly about $10,000 in our own notes which we have disposed of in the East heretofore, for the sake of avoiding express charges. Shortly before the war broke out, and without any reference whatever thereto the Comptroller of the Currency decided that it would be better to send direct to all banks their own national bank notes—that is, the notes put out by the department in place of the soiled ones turned in for redemption and he accordingly refused to turn such notes over to some Eastern bank as had been the custom before. As we are not allowed to count national bank notes as part of our reserve against deposits, we give them out again as quickly as we can.

"In the second place, the new Reserve Bank Act is expected to start up very soon and the banks are preparing for the changes that will then take place. Gold will be needed for making purchases of stock in the San Francisco and other reserve banks and the banks are laying some of it aside for that purpose. With regard to the war, it seems now to be a foregone conclusion that gold will be shipped to Canada to pay off our obligations to Europe, which means, very largely, England. It is not accurately known just what amount of our stocks and bonds are held abroad, but it is safe to say that the total is above $3,000,000,000 (three billion, not million.) At the outbreak of the war, about $100,000,000 of American securities were sold by Europe on the New York market. There would have been more but the shut up the market.

Now, it will go hard with us if we have to take up all those bonds and securities after the war is over and the exchange markets cannot stay closed forever. So, it has been decided, after much argument, to put up gold in Canada to show our willingness to pay our debts and to pay them in the only money that is good all over the world—gold. The idea is that this evidence that we are ready to pay whenever the money is wanted will stop any mad rush to get the money from us. The European bondholder, feeling that he can get gold for his American bond any time he wants it, will wait until that time really comes, or, perhaps, he won't ask for it at all. You know that is the principle of banking; as long as a depositor knows he can get his money any time he wants it he lets it lie or

A LIVE SPORT LETTER

By Hal Sheridan

(Written for the United Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—It's all off, fellows. The dope has been figured and Yale will beat Harvard 75 to 0. You know the old wheeze someone pulled to the effect that figures don't lie, but this is not advising a bet on the figures to appear herein and hereafter as this tangle of dope is unraveled.

In building up the fabric, it is first necessary to point out that Michigan beat the Michigan Aggies 3 to 0. Following this momentous event, Nebraska beat the Michigan Aggies 24 to 0, making Nebraska 21 to 0 better than Michigan. Follow closely, for South Dakota tied Nebraska and may therefore also be credited with being 21 to 0 better than Michigan. That brings us to a crucial point, so we'll start a new paragraph.

Notre Dame beat South Dakota 33 to 0. Adding 21 and 33, Notre Dame must therefore be 54 to 0 better than Michigan. Notre Dame then journeyed east, Yale beat Notre Dame 28 to 0 and by the dope is therefore 82 to 0 better than Michigan. And now comes the crusher. Harvard defeated Michigan by the measly score of 7 to 0. Hence and therefore, Yale must be 75 to 0 better than Harvard—and there you are.

This about represents the value of dope and figures which all pursue and then stand idly by and see spilled over several acres when the actual combat comes. In these wild days, the best to expect when everything looks rosy is a jump in the opposite direction. Everything promises one of the most interesting fights in years when Yale and Harvard get together. As a last resort Harvard may have Charles Brickley's left foot educated well enough for him to stop him and take a shot at a goal from field if the Crimson gets inside the 25-yard line, but is unable to advance further. Brickley will have a month between him and his recent visit to the hospital by that time. The wound resulting from the operation from appendicitis, already permits the swinging of the left foot against the pigskin and Brickley may be expected to take a shot if Harvard needs the aid of his unerring toe.

It's a busy winter ahead. All that has to be done is pick a manager for the New York Yankees, put Bender, Plank and Combs on some team, reorganize the Athletics, assign a new manager to the Cubs and a few other odd details. The only thing the rumors and reports can't do is dig Fielder Jones out of Portland, Ore. That has been a regular winter pastime, but now Jones is already out.

DEFENDING COURTS

California Outlook

The first day of the recent session of the American Bar Association was characteristic of all modern serious meetings of lawyers and judges. The old ex cathedra attitude toward the public is all gone. No longer do the judges meet and solemnly instruct the people what shall be their attitude toward the courts. On the contrary, they accept the fact that the attitude of the people toward the courts ranges from extremely critical to violently hostile, and they concede that this attitude is justified. The whole question discussed at this meeting of the Bar Association, and at most similar meetings, was not how to bring the public around to its proper attitude of deference toward the courts, but entirely how to reform the courts so that they would deserve the better opinion of the people. The great Justices of America, from ex-President Taft and the Justices of the Supreme Court down, unanimously recognize that American jurisprudence, in the conduct of cases and of appeals, is still in the stage from which England long ago emerged, and that America, if its court procedure is to justify itself, must make as radical changes as England made.

Of course, this is not the "general opinion of the bar." Walk down the street or through the law offices and pick out the first twenty lawyers you meet, and nineteen will be of exactly the contrary opinion. They will be entirely certain that every person of "trained legal mind" (there being no "trained legal mind" except legally trained minds, reprehends this popular agitation), represents this popular agitation and that it is based entirely on the ignorance of the populace. But this is not the opinion of that infinitesimal minority of the legal profession which knows the law. The lawyers who know law, such men as gathered to listen to former President Taft and President Wilson address the Bar Association, agree with the popular criticism and demand that it shall be met. Therefore, being sustained by the opinion of the educated lawyers, the populace may survive the intellectual contempt of the uneducated ones.

REPORTS OF CONVENTION

Mesdames Ey and Marks Give Vivid Accounts; Paper on 'Modern Superstitions' Read

The Woman's Club held a very interesting meeting, with a large attendance, yesterday at the home of the president, Mrs. W. C. Young, 1206 North Broadway. The roll call responses were quotations from Whitier.

The principal business was the report of the delegates on the District Convention of Women's Clubs held in Santa Ana last week. Mrs. F. A. Marks and Mrs. Frank Ey, who were the Woman's Club delegates, each had excellent accounts of the meetings, bringing the proceedings of the convention vividly before the club.

Mrs. Ella F. Lash had a well-written paper on "Modern Superstitions." She declared that the subject is as "old as the hills," but even in the enlightened days of the very modern present the majority of people still have some superstitious ideas. This truth was very clearly brought out in the animated discussion that followed the paper. It was surprising to find how many of the ladies of the club had to admit that they had some "morsels about Friday, the 13th, broken mirrors, looking at the moon over the left shoulder," or some similar fancy. It was developed that some of the quaint ideas of childhood linger unconsciously in the mind.

The meeting was altogether one of the most interesting held by the Woman's Club for some months.

Addresses Poly Students

George Balderston spoke to the pupils of Polytechnic high school on Mining Engineering yesterday afternoon at the assembly period. Mr. Balderston is a graduate of the Harvard College of Engineering and was superintendent of one of the largest gold mines in the Cripple Creek district in Colorado.

Excellent P-T. Program

A most enjoyable and profitable meeting of the Fifth Street Parent-Teacher Association was held Tuesday afternoon. The program was opened with a mandolin and guitar duet by Mr. and Miss Quintanar, followed by a vocal duet rendered in Spanish by the Misses Quintanar.

Mrs. P. H. McElree, president of the City Parent-Teacher Federation, conducted an informal discussion on ways and means of getting mothers to attend the meetings of the associations. Later she urged upon the mothers the importance of instruction in sex hygiene, furnishing the address of a publishing house where literature on this subject may be obtained.

Before adjournment the obliging musicians responded to a demand for more music, closing with that sweet Spanish song, "La Golontrina."

Past Matrons' Association Has Delightful Meeting and Entertains Guests

One of the most successful as well as largest meetings of the Past Matrons' Association, O. E. S., was held yesterday afternoon at the South Main street home of Mrs. Prince L. Tople. Lovely roses in vases formed the simple adornment of the attractive home. An entertaining feature of the afternoon was a pleasing Eastern Star poem read by Miss Berdena Henry, who was a guest of the Matrons. The serving of enticing refreshments concluded the pleasant reunion. Mrs. T. A. Winkler will be hostess for the December meeting.

Miss Mary Colter, a charter member of the society, came down from Los Angeles for yesterday afternoon's meeting. Several visiting Eastern Star women were guests of the association, including Miss Henry, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Dunthley, Mrs. Cora Cavins and Mrs. Dora Pease, the two latter being, respectively, the retiring worthy matron of Hermost Chapter and the matron-elect.

The members of the association present were Mesdames George Balderston, D. W. Crawford, R. E. Dickinson, S. J. Evans, H. S. Gordon, J. R. Medlock, U. D. Palmer, W. S. Peck, H. H. Reeves, C. E. ## BOOK REVIEW CLUB

"The Promised Land" Studied by Members From Review by Mrs. H. G. Hull

Last evening the Book Review Section of the Ebelt Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tedford on North Broadway to listen to a review of the book entitled "The Promised Land," by Mary Antin, as given by Mrs. H. G. Hull. The reviewer read numerous selections from the work, which is in the nature of an autobiography, and the author a Jewish woman from Russia. "The book is made up of the author's childhood experiences in Russia, her emigration to America and the contrasted experiences in this country."

Mary Antin, as a child, had a strong imagination and an active brain that took interest in everything about her. Her parents allowed her to early run free about the fields, and her imagination was fostered by devotion to nature. But her parents lived in a village where the Jews were segregated and not allowed to go outside its limits without galling restrictions. The persecutions endured by the Jews from their Gentile neighbors were early appreciated by the child and made a vast impression, forming a past which in after years she would have been glad to forget, since it hindered her expansion even as wet garments hinder the speed of a runner. And yet those experiences, enabling her to appreciate the advantages of America, were the strands of a cable linking the old world with the new.

The book tells how the Russians asserted that the Jews killed little children at their Passover ceremonies, and used this vile slander as an excuse to harass and murder them—how the men were compelled to serve four years in the Russian army, involving modes of living contrary to their ritual, and how they went into hiding to escape, or by hardship scraped money enough together to buy off from the term of service. One most pathetic incident was that of a poor old woman inhabiting a hovel and who had no flag to raise on her dwelling on the occasion of a holiday in honor of the Czar. Because none was displayed an officer took the one pillow from her bed, sold it and procured the required flag. Everything was taxed, tobacco especially so, as not only the tobacco but the bowl of the pipe and the stem each had a separate tax, the smoke being all that escaped free.

Many Jewish customs in regard to the observance of the Passover and other religious feasts were described and the system of education by the Rab was touched upon. It was not considered worth while to give a girl much book instruction and her education was in her mother's kitchen, where she learned to be a good housekeeper, to understand the food requirements of the Mosaic law, and in general fit herself to be a good wife, since marriage was the one destiny of the Jewish maiden. Marriage was not arranged by the parties chiefly concerned; in fact, they had little to do with it. Kind relatives balanced the respective attractions of the parties and with the help of the professional marriage broker consummated the transaction.

Owing to unfortunate financial conditions, Miss Antin's father was obliged to come to America and after a time sent for his family. The difficulties of getting out of Russia, through Germany and across to America, and the excitement and ecstasy of the arrival are all portrayed. The book describes the beginning of their life in the tenement district of Boston, where brick pavements and houses, lighted streets and free schools, things which American citizens take as a matter of course and do not hesitate to grumble about, were matters of amazement and thanksgiving to the newly arrived immigrants. The first day at school when the father took his child to the teacher and in broken English commenced her active little brain and willing heart to kindly care, is a notable incident in the book, as is the story of the little Jewish girl's mind, like a plant emerging from a cellar to the sunlight, expanded under the influence of our free institutions. She had not only learned Hebrew and Russian but picked up English word by word, came to love the language gained so hard, and surprised her teachers with a command in English that in correctness and in poetic feeling was far beyond her years. Her eagerness to learn and greediness for work would have put to blush the average American scholar, and it was no wonder that she later stood at the head of her class in the aristocratic Boston Latin school and upon graduation received commendatory words of praise.

Mrs. Hull said that it was difficult to find out much about the present life of the author, who is still writing and has produced another book, entitled "The Jew Who Knocked at Our Gates." She is married and has a daughter, who will grow up with American advantages and without the unhappy childhood of the mother.

Many Hear Dr. Tucker

A goodly number of people, the largest yet, of all ages and sizes, found their way into the First Baptist church by the back door last evening to hear Dr. Tucker's address, given under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of that church.

He spoke on "The Great Day of Atonement," using his outline chart and a painting of the High Priest, both truly wonderful, to illustrate the lesson. The sacrifices and ceremonies of Leviticus—the "Shadows of Things Which Were to Come"—were shown to be truly shadows of Jesus Christ the substance, in a beautiful and wonderful way. A bloodless gospel is no gospel at all, Mr. Tucker says. A new chart will be used next Tuesday evening, beginning a short study in the prophecy of Isaiah. All are welcome to these meetings.

Evangelist Stivers

A GOOD AUDIENCE HEARS EVANGELIST

Another good audience attended the revival services at the First Christian Church last evening. Those attending were well repaid with the sermon on "Christ Our Prophet, Priest and King."

The evangelist, Rev. Stivers, believes in laying well the foundation for faith and Christian living. Lloyd Babbitt delighted the audience with a beautiful tenor solo. All are invited to attend these very helpful meetings. Song service begins at 7:30 o'clock.

DEATH OF L. J. HALL AT GOLD ROADS, ARIZONA

News was received here recently of the death of L. J. Hall, eldest son of O. H. Hall and the late Mrs. O. H. Hall, and brother of Hoyt Hall and Mrs. Edith Eversole, all of whom resided here till within the past two years. The deceased young man spent several months here of acquaintance and made a number of acquaintances who will regret to hear of his death. Mr. Hall died suddenly on the desert, at Gold Roads, Arizona, where he had operated in mines off and on for several seasons. His brother, Hoyt Hall, formerly bookkeeper for A. N. Zerman, but now of the Globe Mills, Whittier, was notified by telegram of the death, and went to Arizona at once to take charge of the funeral arrangements.

The body of the deceased was taken to Kingman, Arizona, for burial, and after a funeral service that was attended by a large concourse of the mining men he had known and fraternized with so long, "Fay" Hall, as he was best known to Colorado and coast friends, was laid to rest in the desert where he had spent so many years of his later life. Big-hearted, a friend to all, and liked by all who knew him best, Fay Hall will be mourned by scores of friends in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado and on the wide spaces of the desert country in California and Arizona.

TOMORROW IS LAST DAY FOR CONTRIBUTING SUPPLIES FOR STARVING BELGIANS' RELIEF

As the time draws near for the shipment of the supplies which are being gathered for the relief of the Belgians by the Chamber of Commerce committee having the work in charge, increased quantities of dried fruits, beans, clothing and checks of varying amounts are being received.

The supplies will be shipped from Santa Ana some time Friday. For this reason all contributions must be made by tomorrow evening. It is thought quite likely that by time all the donations are received the amount will compare favorably with that shipped by any other city in California of the same class as Santa Ana.

The urgency of contributing supplies, and funds for the purchase of supplies, is being graphically set forth in some of America's largest and most influential newspapers. Reports of those who have been detailed to investigate the present conditions in Belgium are starting in their description of the suffering and horror through which the Belgians are going.

The following have contributed to the relief of the Belgian sufferers since yesterday afternoon:

A. H. Lyons, sack of flour; P. C. Wedell, two sacks clothing; T. B. Elliott, sack apricots; J. A. Gardner, sack flour; C. H. Stanley, package of rice; H. Spencer, sack beans; Mrs. France and two friends, $1.75; H. A. Wassum, sack apricots; Mrs. C. G. G. set, sack beans; Mr. and Mrs. Wil-White, sack flour and box clothing; Olive Milling company, 20 sacks flour; T. M. Purdon, clothing; F. E. Scott, sack flour; P. Hogbin, clothing; J. B. Gowdy, sack apricots; D. Halladay, $25; Lulu Anderson, $2; Delhi Sunday school, $4.50; G. H. Walker, $5; Rev. Rufus S. Chase, $3; "Friends," $8; Mrs. Fanny H. Collins, $5; Lou P. Hickox, $2; John King, Ocean Grove, N. J., $5; Mrs. John King, Ocean Grove, N. J., $5; Isabelle Squires, $2; W. W. Halesworth, $5; Register Publishing Company, $5; J. Albright, $2; Mrs. L. M. Stafford, $1; Rena Stafford, $1; Cash, $1; Mrs. C. H. Brown, $5.

Following is a statement made by J. J. Whitehouse, a member of the British Parliament, after personal investigation of conditions in Belgium:

"Termonde a few weeks ago was a beautiful city of about 16,000 inhabitants. I found every house destroyed. I thought that not a soul remained. I was wrong, for as we walked into a square where was the wreck of what had been one of the most beautiful of Gothic churches there met my eyes a blind woman and her daughter groping among the ruins. They were the sole surviving creatures in the whole town. What had become of the population? They had fled in all directions. A great number were wandering about the country panic-stricken and starving. Many were already dead.

"The whole life of the nation has been arrested. The peasants are without the necessities of life and conditions of starvation grow more acute every day. The entire nation is in a state of famine."

Says an editorial in the New York Evening Post:

"We say nothing about causes; what we are speaking of is the fearful desolation and ruin, the heart-rending distress, the unspeakable agony of hundreds of thousands of Belgian non-combatants who, a few short weeks ago, were dwellers in quiet and happy homes, and who are now wanderers on the face of the earth—fatherless, perhaps, or widowed; homeless and forlorn and almost hopeless, surely. . . . The mere extent of the misery defies realization; the individual horrors are too infinitely varied to grasp. We ought to send a million dollars and much more."

MONROVIA VOTES $15,000 BOND ISSUE FOR STREETS

MONROVIA, Nov. 18.—By a vote of 581 to 258 the citizens of Monrovia yesterday decided to bond the city for the sum of $15,000 for the purpose of improving the streets in all portions of the town.

The total vote cast at the election was 846, or about 40 per cent of the registered vote.

It has been decided to set aside $10,000 of this amount at once for the repairing of the streets already paved, but which are in poor shape at the present time. This work will begin immediately, it is stated, and give employment to scores of persons.

HURTY TELLS HOW TO GET RID OF RODENTS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 18.—This city is credited with being the first in the United States to endeavor to exterminate rats before the rodents had become a menace to the public health. The business men have heeded the warning of the state board of health and the Chamber of Commerce has begun to act on the advice of Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner.

After explaining that California and New Orleans had spent many millions to exterminate rats and quench the bubonic plague, carried by rats, and that rats from New Orleans might easily come up the Mississippi on river boats and spread the plague in the Middle West, Dr. Hurty gave a course of procedure to the business men.

First, Let the Chamber of Commerce gather all the facts obtainable concerning rats and methods of destroying them.

Second, Create public opinion against the rat so that the presence of one on the premises will be loathed.

Third, Let every member of the Chamber of Commerce promise to rid his premises of rats and make the premises rat-proof.

Fourth, Abolish all rat-producing conditions, such as piles of trash, dilapidated outhouses, piles of garbage, etc.

Fifth, Pass a city ordinance declaring the rat a nuisance and assessing after a given period a fine of $5 per rat against property owners on whose premises rats are found.

BROKERS' FIRM SAID TO HAVE EMBEZZLED $40,800

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—War-rants for alleged embezzlement against J. C. Wilson and J. A. Wil-brand, brokers, were issued today by Police Judge Crist. The complaining witnesses, A. F. Bussey, Jr., Louis Rosenthal and Geo. F. Hutton, allege they have been defrauded of $40,800. Attorneys representing the plaintiffs said that additional charges may be filed. They allege the money entrusted to the accused brokers represented a cash purchase of securities and stock to be delivered within a week.

"When the stock was not forthcoming," Attorney Boalt, for plaintiffs said, "they demanded their money back. When neither was delivered they decided to prosecute."

The firm of J. C. Wilson and Company of which Wilson is the head, closed its doors at the outset of the European war. Boalt claims that the money in question was paid Wilson a week before the New York office of the company closed, and before financial conditions became serious.

INDIANA MAY LICENSE REAL ESTATE DEALERS

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 18.—Whether or not real estate dealers should be licensed by the state legislature will be discussed today by the governors of the Indiana Real Estate Association. If they decide favorably the state legislature will be asked to enact a licensing law which will serve to keep out dishonest men from the real estate business in Indiana.

Woman's Fads and Fancies

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Any sordid commercial soul can feather her own nest as it is of frills and furbelows. Its going to feather her own costume artistically. My lady has this winter gone back to her old friend, the ostrich, for her borrowed plumage. The ostrich plume has returned with added prestige to its high station atop some of the very best hats. It is in its new role of fringe, however, that it tickles the feminine fancy most of this season.

The delicacy and softness of this fragile fairy-like fringe of feather fronds makes it a particularly desirable garniture on light fluffy evening frocks, gossamer lingerie and diaphanous negligees but it is also pressed into service as suitable trimming on wraps and neck fixings.

A ravishing set of underwear consisting of an underbodice, panties and a petticoat of flesh color Pussywillow taffeta makes good the saying "beauty unadorned adorned the most" devoid of "The Lilac Domino" the first of a hemstitched edges are finished with the soft fringe of the flesh colored ostrich fronds and a tiny garland of French ribbon roses—one on each pantie, one on the front of the corset and four at discreet intervals around the bottom of the petticoat, make up its rare simplicity.

An apricot tinted negligee of crepe de chine cut on loose flowing kimono lines relies for ornament solely upon a fringe of apricot ostrich which borders it around the hem, up the fronts and around the neck and sleeves. A coquettish boudoir cap with a frill of ostrich fringe and shirred satin ribbon slippers, feathers around the tops, completes this desirable set.

A perfect dream of a frock which shows the feather trimming off to advantage is worn by the prima donna also an upstanding Medici collar of season of Opera Comique presented by Andreas Dippel in New York. The dainty gown is built of shell pink satin and tulle. The waist which is a cross between a tight basque and a semi-fitted jacket is of the satin. It buttons up the front and the low-cut neck is finished with a flat sailor collar which extends from shoulder to shoulder in the rear where there is county. The cities where it was the feather fringe.

The little jacket extends to below the hips where it ends in a feather finish and its transparent sleeves of the pink net are finished softly about the hands with the same trimming. The skirt is an ankle length accordion pleated affair of the satin over which two full flounces of the tulle edged with ostrich fringe flaunt their airy charms.

Aprons of Thespian fashions in the window of an exclusiv Broadway shop is displayed a gown designed for a well known stage celebrity noted for her original and startling toilettes. This particular frock consists of a soft white blouse of china silk with a demure little around turn over collar and a pleated skirt of dark extremely blue serge which buttons with large white pearl buttons high up on the blouse in extremely short-waisted effect. Straps of the serge passed suspender-like over each shoulder.

An obvious steal from the "Little Dorrit" and "David Copperfield" suits affected by all the small fry this past season it truly promises a certain ludicrous chic and piquant simplicity to its grown-up wearer.

Really it isn't so much what they are wearing this year that counts as what they are not wearing. In other words, you've simply got to take off more than you put on if you would be in style these evenings.

You might with perfect impunity fox trot from the Turkish bath to the ball room without a bit of hesitation, for some of the smartest evening gowns fold about the waist and end abruptly just above the bust in the best manner of a bath sheet as jauntily affected by steamroom devotees. Even straps of pearls or brilliants are becoming looked upon as superfluous and a bit of whale-bone up the front back and under each arm is all that keeps these less-than-bodice-more-than-girdle affairs above the danger line.

In a recent Broadway production called "Experience," Youth asks Fashion, who is attired in one of these nothing-above-the-bust evening gowns to dance with him. "I am afraid to," says Fashion, "for fear my dress might fall off."

"I am relieved," responds Youth, "for I thought it had already."

LECTURER OTT TO TALK OF NEED OF MARRIAGE STUDY

Kansas proposes a law, soon to be acted upon, providing for a marriage commission of three in each county to demand medical examination and proper education on the marriage relation for those applying for licenses, as well as an announcement of all marriages thirty days before the ceremony is performed. Oregon already has a regulation of the sort.

Dr. Edward Amherst Ott is one of the thinkers who have been putting their ideas into concrete form for the benefit of the general public. The education and medical examination of all applicants for a marriage license is, he considers, the only way to begin a solution of the divorce problem. He has lectured on the question over 2000 times.

This is striking at causes, not only for this generation, but for the next as well. The second step will be the introduction of such education in all the public schools. No boy or young man can step into the position of railroad president and fill it successfully with no knowledge whatever of railroad matters. No one can be a court reporter until he has studied stenography. No person can succeed in any line until he or she has been trained to it.

Then, why expect that two persons of necessarily different ideas and ideals can make a complete success of the greatest undertaking in the world—marriage—when they are ignorant of the very rudiments of it?

"Ignorance is sin." So, instead of worrying about the increase of the divorce percentage in this country, why not strike at the cause and make the act of marriage a thing to be more seriously considered?

BAPTISTS OF THREE COUNTIES MEETING AT RIVERSIDE TODAY

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 18.—The twenty-third annual session of the Santa Ana Valley Baptist Association convened at Riverside last night. The convention is held under the auspices of the First Baptist church of this city, of which Dr. George F. Holt is pastor. The meetings will close with an especially interesting session on Thursday evening, which will be conducted by the University of Redlands. Special music has been arranged for this final session. The key word, "Efficiency," has been announced for this convention and the controlling text, taken from Matthew 6:33, is, "But Seek Ye first the Kingdom of God."

The Santa Ana Baptist Association includes sixteen Baptist churches located in San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties. Large numbers of delegates from nearly every one of the Baptist churches in the district covered by the association are in attendance and a most successful and helpful convention session is predicted.

Tonight's session is designated as the Young People's session. At the banquet, there will be eight 3-minute toasts by representatives of different societies. Milford Parker is named as toastmaster for the occasion.

Thursday afternoon the Riverside Baptists will be hosts to the visitors on an automobile trip over the city and surrounding points of interest.

TO LECTURE HERE ON WHITE SLAVERY

Dr. Essert of Denver, Noted White Slavery Investigator, to Give Lecture Series

Dr. F. H. Essert, president of the International Anti-White Slave Association will speak here in the churches next week as follows:

Sunday, November 22, at 3 p. m., in the First Methodist church, to men only. Subject: "A National Peril—The Taxpayers' Burden—How it affects Santa Ana."

Monday, November 23, at 3 p. m., women only, at the South M. E. church. Subject: "The Scarlet Man."

Monday at 8 p. m. in the United Presbyterian church, a union mass meeting for all. Subject: "The Blackest Crime in History—White Slavery."

This is Dr. Essert's most noted lecture. He has given it in 31 states during the past three years and to over a quarter of a million of people. As an expert along these lines, he has no equal, as he gained many inside facts in the great Bethel Hospital at Colorado Springs, of which he was general superintendent for a number of years.

Dr. Essert handles his subjects in a masterful way and clothes them in language that does not offend the most modest.

WATER COMPANY IS OFFERING ITS BONDS TO ITS STOCKHOLDERS

The Anaheim Union Water Company will soon have to make arrangements to finance the issue of $85,000 of bonds, as explained in the following letter recently sent out to the stockholders.

Anaheim, Cal., Nov. 7, 1914. Stockholders of the Anaheim Union Water Company.

Dear Sir or Madam: There are $75,000 of the old issue of the Anaheim Union Water Company bonds and $10,000 of the new issue coming due January 1, 1915.

To meet their payment there was provided and placed in escrow a like amount of the new series with the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank, and until recently it has not been anticipated that there would be any difficulty in placing such amount of the new issue. The recent stringency on the money market has made such placing difficult and even doubtful, and it may become necessary to make an assessment upon the stock to meet the payment of such maturing bonds, in case the new cannot be floated in time. The new issue are in denominations of $1000, bearing six per cent interest, payable semi-annually, and mature in 1934. If you could take any of them it would be a great financial aid to this company at this time, and probably avoid an assessment. If you have any friend or business associates or acquaintance who would be likely to take any of such new issue it would also be a favor to this company if you would induce them to take some of the bonds.

Please advise us promptly whether or not you or any of your friends will be in a position to assist us in this matter, and thus greatly oblige.

Yours very truly,
 Anaheim Union Water Company,
 by WM. T. WALLOP, Sec'y.

UNCLE SAM BUSY WITH XMAS GIFTS

Coining Million Dollars' Worth of $2.50 Gold Pieces at Mint in Denver

DENVER, Nov. 17.—Uncle Sam is busy in Denver turning out the largest order of Christmas presents manufactured in the nation. No factory in the United States will manufacture Christmas produce of greater value than will the government in Denver this fall.

So great is the rush for Uncle Sam's Christmas gifts that he has been at work for some time preparing them and will continue to work until the holidays.

The particular gift to which he is turning his energies is money. Always before Christmas there is a demand from all parts of the nation for gold coins for presents and the Denver mint has been selected to supply the entire output for the middle west, east and south.

One million dollars' worth of two-and-one-half-dollar gold pieces are now being coined at the mint. These are distinctly Christmas coins. Always before the holidays there is a heavy demand for them. And after Christmas they drift back to the banks and sub-treasuries and only a few remain in circulation.

The order is the second in the denomination which the Denver mint has filled and the local mint will be the only one this year to coin gold in this denomination. The coins are the most difficult to handle of all those turned out by the government. They are smaller than pennies, yet their value is so high that great pains must be taken with them.

After the 400,000 pieces in the order have been coined they will be sold to banks and individuals and shipped to sub-treasuries to supply the Christmas demand.

The mint will also coin five, ten and twenty-dollar gold pieces before the holidays.

FAMOUS BOSTON THEATRE PASSES

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—With the demolition of the Boston Theater to give place to a proposed new hotel, the oldest playhouse in this city with one exception and one of the oldest in the country, will pass into history. The news of the probable elimination of the famous theater recalls to many of the older Bostonians the "good old days" when in their youth they marveled at the big clock with its strange moving hands, and raced madly up the interminable spiral staircase to get a front seat in the gallery for the opera.

The theater, one of the most spacious of its day, received the public for the first time on Monday evening, September 11, 1854, and has thus rounded out an even sixty seasons. It was a successor to the old Federal Street Theater, whose building has been sold.

The Boston Theater Company was

FRUIT MEN OF OLIVE ENTER ASSOCIATION

Orange News: The eighth fruit association to join the Orange County Fruit Exchange, the Olive Heights Citrus Association, yesterday took preliminary steps toward building a new packing house at Olive.

The directors of the association met at the office of the Orange County Exchange here and organized by electing W. H. White of Long Beach as president and A. C. Fletcher of Villa Park as vice president. D. E. Huff, manager of the Orange County Exchange, who is assisted in the organization, was elected secretary pro tem.

After adopting by-laws for the association, the directors authorized the president and secretary to sign a lease with the Santa Fe for ground for their packing house. They were also authorized to investigate labels and sundry supplies.

It was stated that the new house will be ready for packing the next Valencia crop and possibly be ready for navel, which in this section can be held late; but that, in case the house is not ready for navel, the association will nevertheless pack under its own brands through some other house. The navel crop of the association is not large.

It is estimated that the association will ship during its first year from 75 to 100 cars. The directors recently elected were: A. C. Fletcher, J. A. Maag, P. H. Medlin, H. C. Meyer, W. H. White, E. M. Crawford and Frank Maag.

ANAHEIM MAN HELD UP AND ROBBED OF $13

ANAHEIM, Nov. 18.—A. A. Eder, who lives on the Ball road, southeast of town, was held up by three vagabonds Sunday evening while proceeding south of town on the Santa Fe, and relieved of $13.

Eder had been to Los Angeles on Sunday and was on his way home. He had come back on the evening Southern Pacific train. He halted between the two courses home—the main road or the Santa Fe tracks—and took the latter. Everything went well until he had gone quite a distance down the track when three fellows stopped him. One of them pressed a gun to his stomach and the other two went through his pockets, taking all the cash he had found there. As soon as Eder could reach a telephone he called the local officers. Officer Sackett responded and rounded up all the suspicious looking vagabonds to be found, but was unable to find any coin on any that were searched. So far no trace has been found of any of the hold-up men.

BARNES' CIRCUS HERE NOV. 26

Without doubt, some of the most sensational, thrilling, death-defying wild animal acts ever shown are presented by the Al G. Barnes Wild Animal Circus.

Over 600 educated wild and domestic animals are used in giving the performance of this show—the greatest collection of trained animals ever assembled under one management. The Barnes Circus was the original wild animal show and now holds the rank of being the largest aggregation of the character in the world, presenting as it does, more trained animals than all other shows combined.

Sixty-five sensational, amusing, amazing, thrilling acts are presented at each performance. These acts are given in two divisions, the wild animals' acts in a large steel-barred arena in the center of the big tent and those of the domestic animals in the regulation sawdust rings at either side of the arena. There is something doing in these two rings and the arena every minute of the three solid hours of entertainment.

The members of the Barnes animal-acting troupe have been recruited from jungles, plain, desert, forest, ocean, and homestead. Lions, tigers, elephants, leopards, jaguars, zebras, hyenas, camels, zebras, monkeys, apes, orang outangs, dogs, horses, ponies, goats, seals and sea lions are members of the troupe—everyone trained to perform, in fact every animal carried with this big show is an actor.

One of the greatest features of the show is the troupe of beautiful horses and ponies—550 in number, which for size, beauty and breeding are unrivaled in the entire world. These horses are all shown during the action of the show's program.

The most thrilling wild animal spectacle known is Herr Roth's group of man-eating African lions—24 in number, which he presents in one act.

Mr. Florine, with a group of Persian leopards and jaguars, and Miss Mabel Stark's Royal Bengal and Siberian tigers are also "thrillers" of the first rank. Thirty bear actors among which is Big Bill, the wrestling grizzly, provide another exciting feature.

A big herd of posing and comedy elephants also have a headline act.

Fifty comedy animals, including Danger, Dynamite, and Mileamint, unrivaled mules, provide a clean line of fun.

A glittering, four-band, mile-long street parade is presented at 10:30. Performance will be given here at 2 and 8 p. m., on Thursday, November 26—Thanksgiving day.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

A better tone in the apple market was very noticeable yesterday morning and on several varieties there were small increases in the quotations. This is due to reports from the large shipping centers of the West. Up to November 1 nearly three-fourths of the California crop of apples had been moved from the packing plants. In Oregon, Washington, Idaho and other states, more than half the apples had been moved, an excellent indication that despite the enormous crop, the consumption will take care of it. In the Northwest the most accurate figures show the crop to amount to 13,500 cars, about 1000 cars lower than the average estimates. Protracted warm weather in the northern country toward the end of the summer caused rapid ripening of the fruit, which made storage impractical; forced the market in the East as well as on the coast to a point of glutting and caused immediate consumption of the fruit. This largely leaves the market to the late varieties which will not be in heavy oversupply as at first anticipated and which will soon permit of better figures for all apples. "Buy a box of apples" slogan which is being popularized throughout the country is also helping to move the fruit on hand.

On the market of staples changes were few. Case count eggs continued to sell at 48 cents and creamery extra butter at 36.

Entertainment is Arranged to Be Given at M. E. Church
Friday

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 18.—The Queen Esther Circle will give a traveltrove Friday evening, November 20, at the M. E. church. There will be good music and Mrs. Brown, wife of the Y. M. C. A. secretary, will give one or two readings. Also Mr. and Mrs. Will Jenks of Artesia will be on the program. Miss Agnes Christensen will give an account of her Grand Canyon trip, also the wreck she was in. Mr. Steele will tell of his trip to Bear Valley. Mrs. Finn will give some items of her trip from the east. Mrs. J. Jentges will give her trip to Santa Barbara in rhyme, while Mrs. G. Reyburn will also tell in rhyme of the trip they planned and didn't take. Mrs. C. C. Violett will give some points of interest on her eastern trip. There will be several good musical numbers—piano, violin, solos and a chorus conducted by Mrs. J. T. McElree. A silver offering will be taken for the "David and Margaret Orphans' Home."

The Orange County Conservatory of Music recital given for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. of Garden Grove at the Methodist church, Monday evening, was a decided success. Those who were fortunate enough to be present enjoyed one of the best musical treats presented in Garden Grove. The program was arranged and carried out by Prof. Gustlin. Those taking part were Prof. Gustlin, Miss Lalla Fagge, Mr. Earl Fraser, Miss Este, Jessup, Miss Kathryn Ballew, Mrs. Trolinger and Mrs. Russell Coleman. The Y. M. C. A. wishes to take this opportunity of thanking the faculty of the Conservatory of Music for the excellent entertainment and the proceeds which will go to the Y. M. C. A. work.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.—Advertisement.

FESTIVAL HALL OF EXPOSITION READY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Within a week, Festival Hall, the last of the beautiful palaces of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition will be ready for the opening of the gates, February 20, 1915. With the finishing of the building, work will begin on the installation of the mammoth pipe organ, and the echo organ, the latter to be placed at the top of the great dome.

Festival Hall will be an opera house and convention hall, and will be the meeting place of many of the national and international conventions which will meet in San Francisco in 1915. It is of the style of the seventeenth century, in harmony with the Palace of Horticulture, the Press building and other structures in the South Garden area. It was modeled after the Theatre des Beaux Arts of Paris, while its details were studied from Le Grand Trianon. The dome which is one of the largest in America, is 221 feet high and 192 feet in diameter, exceeding that of the Palace of Horticulture by 40 feet in width and 36 feet in height.

It Really Does Relieve Rheumatism. Everybody who is afflicted with Rheumatism in any form should by all means keep a bottle of Sloan's Liniment on hand. The minute you feel pain or soreness in a joint or muscle, bathe it with Sloan's Liniment. Do not rub it. Sloan's Liniment almost immediately relieves the seat of pain, relieving the hot, tender, swollen feeling and making the part easy and comfortable. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25 cents of any drugstore and have it in the house—brag about it, sore and swollen joints, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief.—Advertisement.

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 18.—News of the victory of the university bonds by a majority of over 140,000 in the recent election has aroused the enthusiasm of the college community to a higher pitch than any event of recent years. Only those who are in close touch with the university and its work can understand fully the possibilities of growth and service that are now to be realized, and students and faculty unite in returning thanks to the people for their overwhelming vote of confidence and generosity.

With the money from the bonds, the university will be come the largest and best equipped institution of its kind in America—a model for state-supported colleges throughout the country. Thousands of people who voted favorably on the bond question through no other reason than their detached friendship for the cause of learning will come to know how intimately the future progress and development of the state, affecting every section and every interest, is bound up with the success of the university.

From the returns that are now available, it seems likely that the bonds have been approved by a majority of the voters in every California state has authorized.

feared indifference might be a strong factor in the election, gave the proposition a splendid vote. In San Francisco the majority was at the rate of two and one-half to one, while in the county of Los Angeles the bonds carried by more than 30,000 votes.

Work will be commenced upon the new buildings soon after the beginning of the new year, and within three years the campus will be the pride of every Californian. The unsightly recitation building known as North Hall, which has been in use for nearly half a century, will have been torn away and replaced by a new granite and steel structure in conformity with the general architectural plan. This partially finished Doe Library will be built up according to the original plans.

The needs of the Department of Agriculture will be cared for through the construction of and possibly two more, state buildings in the "Agric. Cultural Group," where hereafter all of the branches of this department will be housed, instead of occupying cramped quarters in attics and made-over horse-sheds, as at present. Facilities for an almost endless extension of the correspondence courses in agriculture, which are now reaching tens of thousands of people, will be provided in the new buildings. It is planned to make this bureau one of the most thorough and valuable adjuncts of the Greater University.

Finally, there is to be erected one wing of what will eventually be a great Chemistry building, where every facility for instruction in this science will be provided. When these improvements are completed, California may justly lay claim to proprietorship of one of the greatest universities in America, not only in size and numbers but in beauty and service.

Full credit for this achievement must be given to the people, who responded so loyally to the university's appeal. In gratitude for this response, there is abroad on the campus a desire to make the university's work return many times over to the state the full value of this investment that nest, but it takes a true sartorial
